DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. The disclosure provides no support for a configuring operation. No configurable element or step is disclosed, nor are any parameters and ranges of configuration disclosed such that one of ordinary skill in the art would be able to accomplish "configuring" the elements claimed or determine the appropriate parameters which require "configuration".

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 1-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The "configured to" language present in claims 1-4 is indefinite in that the nature of what configuration operation intended to be covered by the claim language is not recited, nor are any parameters indicated for configuration. One of ordinary skill in the art looking at the claims would therefore not be able to clearly discern the metes and bounds of the claim such that a determination of whether, or not, a device may infringe the claim may be properly made.

Claim 1 is also rejected based on lack of positive antecedent basis of "the initial address" on line 16.

Claim 2 is also rejected based on lack of positive antecedent basis of "the driving system" on lines 2-3. Furthermore, it is not clear what is meant by "driving system".

Claim 4 is rejected because it is not clear what is meant by "a PHS communication capability". The abbreviation PHS is not defined anywhere in the specification.

Claim 5 is rejected based on lack of positive antecedent basis of "the initial address" on lines 15-16.

Claims 6 and 7 are rejected because they depend on claim 5.

Claim 6 is also rejected based on lack of positive antecedent basis of "the driving system" on line 2. Furthermore, it is not clear what is meant by "driving system".

4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The cited references show PC card adapters for coupling an additional card to a computer via the PC card. However, none of the references appear to show the claimed details with regard to the communication control and address control.

5. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Glenn A. Auve whose telephone number is (571) 272-3623. The examiner can normally be reached on M-F 8:00 AM-5:30 PM, every other Friday off.
